BEACHWALK

AN OPPORTUNITY

United States Internal Revenue Collector Charles A. Cottrell had a ring-size seat. Between rounds he kept reiterating the question: "Who's going to be the vice presidential nominee of the new progressive party?"

TORONTO

By GEORGE FITCH

Toronto is a Canadian city with Yankee habits and a British accent. It is located just across Lake Ontario from these domains, and would be an exceedingly handy neighbor from whom to borrow eggs and butter and things of a morning if it loved us, and could be induced to take down its spite fence.

Toronto has nearly 300,000 people, nearly all of whom are busy. This is necessary because of the intense Toronto desire to catch up with Montreal, which had a century's start, and now has 500,000 people and a leisure class. Toronto is a young town and is so full of hustle that the dazed Englishmen who visit it lose their breath while watching it grow; and yet compared with Chicago and Kansas City and Los Angeles and Los Angeles. Toronto's only move on the second speed and seldom cut out their mufflers, except when talking against reciprocity.

Toronto can be distinguished at first glance from an American city by its polite policemen, its postage stamps, and the flags over its public buildings. It has ornamental street lights, a booster organization, real newspapers, actual packing houses, and almost skyscrapers. But it also has some un-American features, including a good city government, a branch bank on every corner instead of a drug store, and a population which assays about 300 golf caps to the thousand. It uses American trains, American locomotives, American toothbrushes, and American tourists in large quantities, but adheres to British clothes, and sings "God Save the King" at the end of every baseball game—for loyal as Toronto is to Great Britain, it can't seem to worry down cricket as a national pastime.

Toronto prides itself upon its clean streets, fine buildings and its colleges. There are six colleges and universities in Toronto and the young student can take his choice of fourteen styles of architecture and several American Greek Letter Fraternities. Toronto is Canadian with a big loud "C," and its newspapers breathe forth such undying hostility to Uncle Sam, that it is a wonder we can sleep nights on this side of the lake. They firmly expect to see Canada annex this country before the middle of the century, and are trying to make a start in the process by annexing the pennant of the Eastern Baseball league. Toronto is a lively city for six days in the week, but like all Canadian cities, it expires at midnight on Saturday and remains a pallid corpse until Monday morning.

ARMORY RESTS UPON MAYOR SIGNING BILL

"Provided Mayor Fern signs the bill that carries the $14,000 appropriation for the armory, we can go right ahead with the building," said Col. J. W. Jones of the national guard this morning.

"With the $100,000 given by the legislature and this $14,000, the building can be put up in its essential particulars, although some things will have to be left undone.

"Only weather painting will be used, some plumbing will be cut out, about one-half of the cement flooring laid and the other features left out for the time being, but the armory can and should go up by the first of next year."

Col. Jones says that the plans are completed and that bids can be called for at a very early date.

LIFE SAVING SCHEME.

A safety device which has given excellent satisfaction on modern passenger vessels is one for releasing life rings off and aft, both on the port and starboard side of the vessel as soon as the news "man overboard" reaches the bridge, either by "wig wag" of the ship's telephone. The officer on duty there gives one turn of a valve and the life-rings are automatically released.

PRIESTS WORK FOR SCHOOLS IN PHILIPPINES

NEW YORK, June 8.—Two Jesuit priests, Fathers Philip Finnegan and J. J. Thompson, who have been doing missionary work in the Philippine Islands for several years, are in the city endeavoring to raise a fund of $150,000 to better conditions for students in the Government schools at Manila and elsewhere.

Fathers Finnegan and Thompson are stopping at the St. Francis Xavier College, No. 30 West Sixteenth Street, of which institution they are both graduates. They declare the present generation of Filipino students will make the Philippine Islands one of the most enterprising and wealthy countries of the Orient.

"The Spanish language," said Father Finnegan yesterday, "is decadent in the islands. English is spoken everywhere now. The young Filipino today dresses in American fashion, and thinks and talks like a young American. I believe they will eventually be one of the most progressive Oriental people."

"It occurred to me and Father Thompson that if a large dormitory building could be erected, somewhat on the plan of the Young Men's Christian Association's buildings, where students could be lodged and boarded at a nominal charge, or just enough to pay the expense of maintenance, the conditions under which they live in Manila would be immensely improved and their studies and moral welfare would be correspondingly bettered. There is no desire to make any sectarian or class qualification for admission to the dormitory."

Fathers Finnegan and Thompson take the greatest interest in the famous Bilibid prison at Manila, where a system has been evolved that really reforms prisoners, the priests say. After a year or so in prison they are moved to a penal colony on an adjacent island and given full liberty, with permission to marry or bring their families to live with them. Very few of the prisoners leave the colony after their term of prison is terminated.

FOR THE MEDICAL PROFESSION

Place—St. Winifred Hospital, San Francisco.

Case—Chronic Parenchymatous Nephritis involving broken compensation, complete Anasarca and Uremic Convulsions.

Prognosis—According to the text books, hopeless. The best physicians had failed and the condition of the patient at the end of a two years' fight for life was so extreme that it was predicted he would not live to get to this city.

The physician who was called in was Dr. L. C. Mendel, who put the patient on Fulton's Renal Compound and aided it with active measures to sustain the heart and promote the eliminations, etc.

To the intense surprise of the local physicians the patient went home and resumed business in the fifth month.

The fact that a slight addition to the orthodox treatment with which it is nowise conflicts, now permits recoveries in many cases of Bright's and kidney disease that the text books declare hopeless ought to interest every physician in this country.

Honolulu Drug Co. is local agent for Fulton's Renal Compound. Ask for pamphlet.
